Dear Jimmy,

Its been swell knowing and fooling around with you at lunch. I never forget the fun we all had chasing after the boys. Liking them one week & not the next.

I hope next year we have nicer guys to "fool around with. I'll see you when we are GREAT BIG SENIORS".

Love
Joan Daguerre

Dear Jimmy:
We've had a lot of fun there last weeks & if I weren't going away to college, we could have a lot more. I have to tell keep up your skating (I don't have to tell you that) and above all keep the ugly guessing.

Luck & love always!

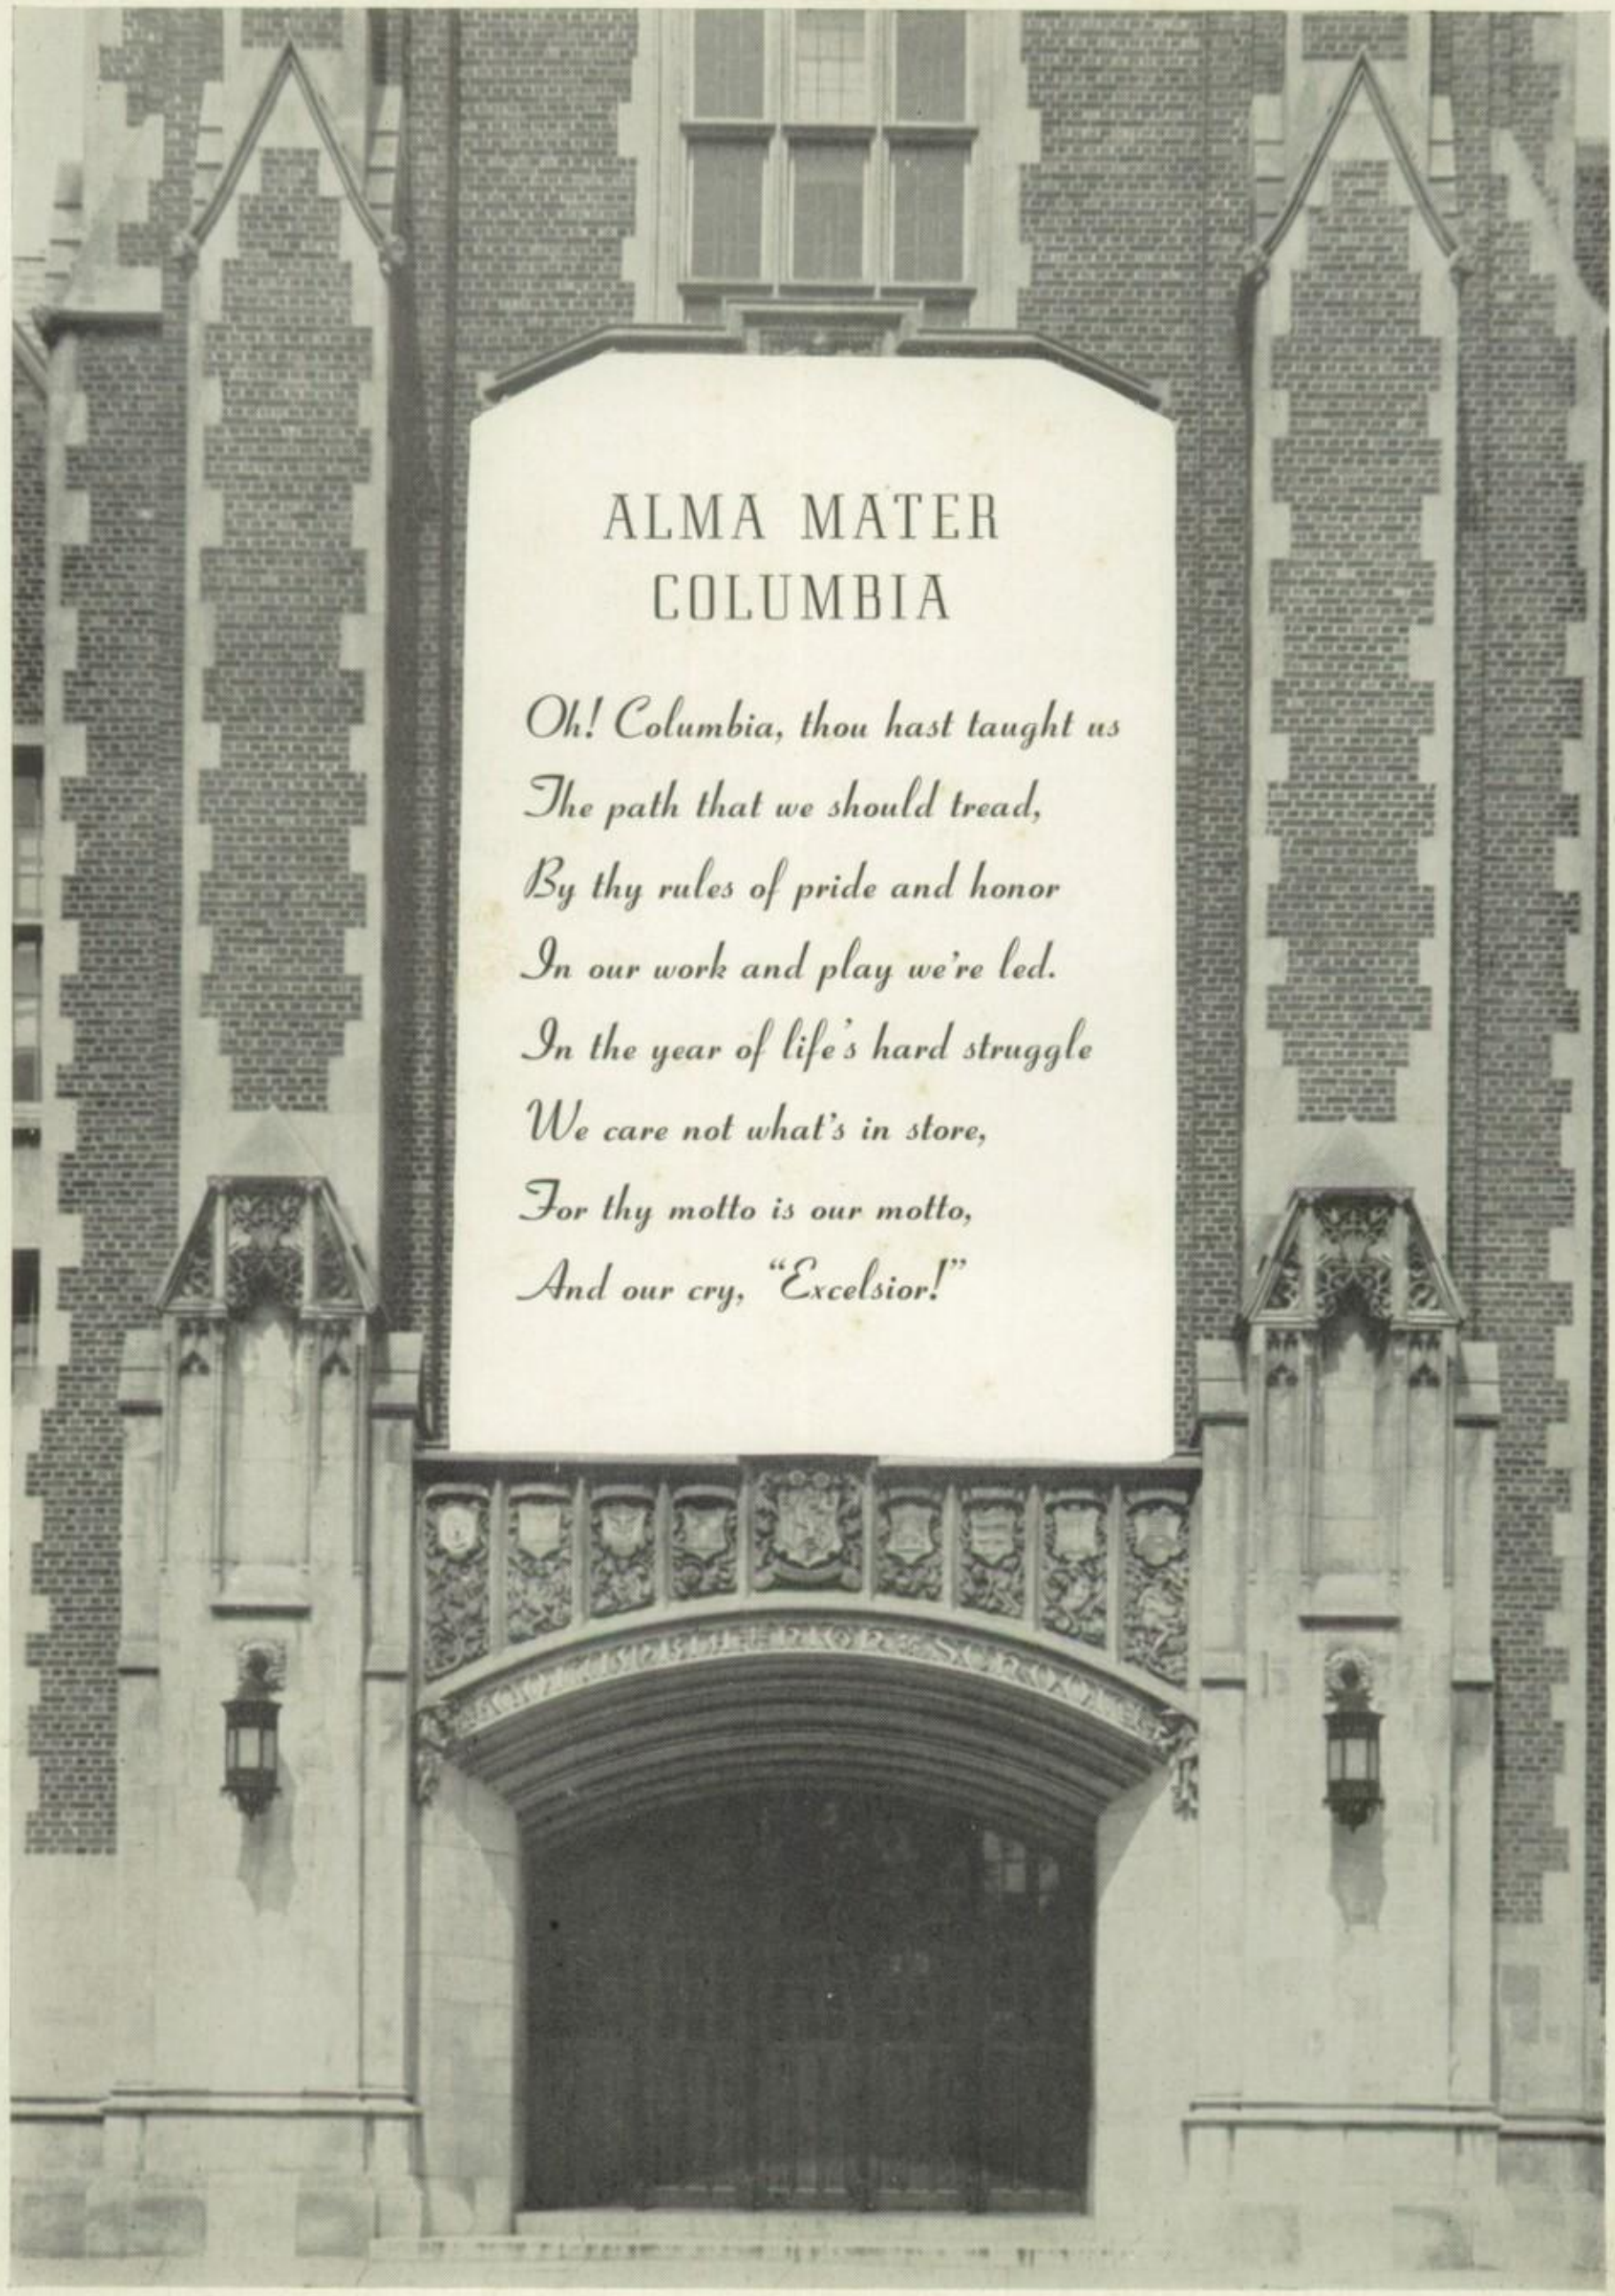
COLUMBIA HIGH SCHOOL

SOUTH ORANGE AND MAPLEWOOD

NEW JERSEY



ALMA MATER COLUMBIA

Oh! Columbia, thou hast taught us
The path that we should tread,
By thy rules of pride and honor
In our work and play we're led.
In the year of life's hard struggle
We care not what's in store,
For thy motto is our motto,
And our cry, "Excelsior!"

DEDICATION

During the past three years at Columbia High School we have been inspired to higher ideals by the men and women of our faculty. They have done their utmost for us in our work and in our play. We shall always cherish our memories of them. With devoted service to their chosen profession, they have given us wisdom and strength which we need in these uncertain, troubled times. Their friendship and sincere interest have given us faith in the ultimate success of our ideals and aspirations. We, the class of 1951, therefore, dedicate this yearbook to the members of the faculty and administration with the hope that their faith in us, the younger generation, may be justified.

SENIOR HISTORY

Soon we shall leave Columbia, and the sheltering strength of its walls. The world we shall enter is racked with the struggle between war and peace. But before we depart, let us once again consider the three happy years we have spent since we first entered high school in September, 1948. Mixed with the knowledge we have gained are the interesting experiences and memories which have been part of our school years. These shall be with us always, some of joy, others of sorrow, but all precious.

Part of our early recollections of Columbia are our experiences with the omitted period and double lunch. However, we were soon Columbians cheering our football team at the rallies on Fridays and at the games on Saturdays. Before long we were part of the numerous school activities, clubs, and committees. Mid-year exams were over and our first year was drawing to a close when our Sophomore Dramatic Club presented its play, New School for Wives. Soon afterward, we watched with amazement the proceedings of the student council elections. During the campaign period we saw everything from hamsters and weight-lifters to torch singers displayed by the candidates in an effort to win coveted school offices. Then came June—exams—and finally summer vacation.

When we entered school in the fall of our Junior year, we were much more confident. Besides the activities of the previous year, there was the added attraction of Junior Night. A carefully chosen Pre-Junior Night Committee started work on the production in the late fall and worked diligently even through Christmas vacation. There were many rumors and questions about the setting and plot, but the secret was well kept, even from our class. At a class meeting shortly after mid-year exams, we were given an idea about the plot and the many parts for which we could try out. The immense cast then started working. Those of us who were not actually in the production worked back stage, on lighting, costumes, and other committees. Almost everyone in our class had a part in The Real McCoy. Our production was the fascinating musical story of a radio give away show, a hill-billy town, and an ultra luxurious hotel. Everyone found the show delightful; the musical score was wonderful and witty, and the dances very clever, especially the Charleston, which was later repeated in the review assembly.

We soon found ourselves in the midst of an exciting election campaign which was bigger and louder than the year before. Of course it had deep significance, for the entire school was electing members of our class to important council positions. The actual voting procedure was sporting a new look also, due to the fact that we had voting machines. We chose the Senior Play Reading Committee, which started studying possible selections for our production in the fall. Then suddenly exams were over and we were in the midst of another summer vacation.

September came, we were seniors entering Columbia for the last time. There were many changes about the school. At the football games we noted girls in the band. A night rally was held and it proved a great success. The Cougar Cage, Friday night get-togethers, started late the year before, met with renewed enthusiasm. Another innovation this year—buses were hired to take us to the away games. Again a great deal of spirit was displayed as our football team enjoyed an excellent season, winning 8 out of 9 games.

Early in the fall, the class held a meeting and chose Arsenic and Old Lace as its final dramatic production. The cast worked very hard during the month preceding Senior Night, and was ably assisted by many class-mates working behind the scenes. The comical farce, Arsenic and Old Lace, met with great success, and was given many curtain calls. The student body found it very amusing when the twelve victims who crawled up from the cellar turned out to be male faculty members.

As seniors we found ourselves in places of leadership throughout the school. Also we were confronted with the task of gaining admission to college. Soon we found ourselves enjoying Christmas vacation and then suddenly came College Board Examinations, mid-year exams, and our last semester in Columbia.

Our three years are rapidly drawing to a close. Shortly we shall find ourselves facing a world with its many uncertainties and problems. It is now up to us to carry on in the tradition of Columbia High School.

CLASS WILL

We, the members of the class of 1951, being of legal age (to drive that is) and sound mind and memory, (even if we can't remember dates in history or Spanish vocabulary) do hereby make, publish, and declare this our last will and testament. Use these gifts wisely "youngsters", as it has taken twelve years to collect them.

Item I: I, Brian O'Hearn, leave my innocent look, that has captured many a feminine heart, to Bob Cross.

Item II: I, Betsy Olwine, leave my "devil-may-care" attitude to Doris Driscoll.

Item III: I, Patsy Palmer, bestow my ability to know all of the Columbia lettermen upon any junior girl who has a basketball court in her backyard.

Item IV: We, Carol Clark and Nancy Tower, leave our knowledge of why "gentlemen prefer blondes" to Lynn Hegel and Muriel Pfeifer.

Item V: I, Jack Coffin, leave my well-used baseball glove and bat to Sonny Santoli.

Item VI: I, Penny Wood, leave to Jean Hannay the proof that even "wee little girls" can handle those "big men".

Item VII: We, Joan Janssen and Norma Barnes, bequeath our versatility over the footlights to Barbara Iannicelli and Gail Asselmeyer.

Item VIII: I, Donny Smith, leave my knack of pepping up class for fifty minutes to Dick Chesnik. The kids appreciate it even if the teachers don't!

Item IX: I, Diane Bischoff, leave my disgustingly healthy look and my rosy cheeks to Carol Browne.

Item X: I, Lynn Sickley, bequeath my title of "first lady of Columbia High School" to whoever is lucky enough to catch next year's council president.

Item XI: I, John Rebholz, leave my tall, dark, and handsome appearance to Frank Abt.

Item XII: I, Gretchen Rommel, leave my ability to charm many an audience with my lovely voice to Beverly Slater.

Item XIII: We, Harriet Weinstein, Mitzi Schneider and Shirley Brooks, leave our many G.A.A. letters and numerals to the hall of fame.

Item XIV: I, Jane Hill, leave my ability to attend two or more meetings daily to Barbara Barron and Jackie Morchower. If you find yourselves running out of time girls, all you have to do is get up and do your homework at 6:00 A.M.

Item XV: I, Wayne Ackerman, leave my "Charles Atlas" physique to Steve MacArthur.

Item XVI: We, Bob Blum and Lura Allen, leave our ability to say "Hello" to the whole student body to Edgar Kaplan and Carol Kaufman.

Item XVII: I, Gail Julian, leave the responsibility of holding up the Julian name to my sister, Carol. Be good, as you're the last Julian in Columbia.

Item XVIII: I, Joe Burke, bestow my versatility in sports (and other things, too) to Doc Nardone.

Item XIX: I, Joan Cetrule, leave my always "spic and span" appearance to Ginny Poppele.

Item XX: We, Barbara Balsam and Connie Doyle, leave our high averages to Judy Relles, Leigh Updike, and Beverly Mellotte. But, on second thought, they really don't need them.

Item XXI: I, David Mintz, leave my knack to "charging up the stairs" to further senior play heroes.

Item XXII: I, John Dorer, bequeath my angelic look (even if it is deceiving) to Eddie Zipf.

Item XXIII: I, Sondra Catalano, leave my model-like figure and a Conover modeling contract to Sandy Warden.

Item XXIV: We, Meryl Schneider and Joan Gould, leave our petiteness and inseparability to Cynthia Mehler and Madeline Tiger.

Item XXV: I, Alan Lauber, leave a large hunk of my curly-haired, dimpled pulchritude gliding around in the form of Sid Kitson.

Item XXVI: I, Marilyn Schnaars, leave Columbia's halls ringing with my jolly laughter.

Item XXVII: I, Dick Calkins, bequeath my musical ability to Ralph Heller and Bob Wheeler. Remember boys—"the more (music) the merrier".

Item XXVIII: We, Sally Flagg and Anne Williams, leave our ballerina gracefulness to Barbara Lentz.

Item XXIX: I, Mary Catherine Oberrender, leave my "Dresden Doll" appearance to Marilyn Collins.

Item XXX: I, George Wallin, alias "baby tank", bestow this title on Jimmy Valestin. Roll on Jim!

Item XXXI: We, Danny Drees and Lois Litzebauer, leave to Frank Penn and Patty Williams our "settled look".

Item XXXII: I, Lois Fox, leave my mark of fifty in gym to any Junior girl who wants to take it two periods a day when she's a Senior.

Item XXXIII: We, Joan Smith and Pat Murchison, bequeath our always clicking knitting needles to Judy Katchen and Miriam Duetz.

Item XXXIV: I, Chuck Van Orden, leave my secret for going through doorways without hitting my head to Fred Willman.

Item XXXV: I, Peter Dinkel, bequeath my ability "to squash a grape" to some tarzan of the Junior class.

Item XXXVI: I, Sheila Schreck, leave a bottle of "nail-stik" to protect those dagger-like nails to Dossie Gaines.

Item XXXVII: We, Edgar Chanpenois and Connie Tauck, leave our all around popularity to Pete Campsi and Barbara Shehadi.

Item XXXVIII: I, Beverly Oetjen, leave my infectious smile and never-failing pep to Lois Fuhrmeister.

Item XXXIX: I, Mel Woody, will to Jack Feinberg, the wrinkle in my forehead, obtained from worrying about Columbian deadlines.

Item XL: We, Eva Lamb and Barbara Horwitz, leave our blond hair to any Junior girl who has the courage.

Item XLI: I, Barbara Beers, leave my "woodbury Complexion" to Susie Rhodes.

Item XLII: I, Sheila Samuels, leave my love for that place "far above Cayugas waters" to Rhoda Newman.

Item XLIII: I, David Sterling, have so much to bequeath that I'd better sprinkle it through-out the Junior class.

Having thus distributed our many accomplishments and talents, we hereby bequeath, as a class, the following:

Item XLIV: To all homeroom teachers: a homeroom that will be in their seats at 8:25.

Item XLV: To the fire Committee: a rule for a daily fire drill, that is at least ten minutes long.

Item XLVI: To Dr. Summers: a class that won't groan when he hands out the "yellow paper" every day.

Item XLVII: To the swimming team: a pair of water wings.

Item XLVIII: To Mrs. Boesel: a student body where no one will try to carry more extra-curricular activities than are allowed.

Item XLIX: To further Junior Nights: the problem of solving the feud between the Hatfields and the McCoys.

Item L: To the Spanish teachers: a class that will trill their "R's" perfectly.

Item LI: To Mr. Talbot: an all girl homeroom, so that he won't feel so bad.

Item LII: To the football, baseball, and track teams: an underground subway from C.H.S. to Underhill field.

Item LIII: To Dr. Alexander: an integrated class that will know it is not book "reports" but book "analyses" that are turned in each month.

Item LIV: To the athletic staff: a carton of Wheaties.

Item LV: To Miss Zielenbach: an advanced class in sewing that will make less mistakes than a beginner's class.

Item LVI: To the librarians: the hope that someday Columbia students will remember their "A, B, C's" when it comes to putting books back on the shelves.

Item LVII: To the incoming Sophomores: our worn-out book covers and pencil stubs.

Item LVIII: To the classes of '52 and '53: the hope that your next years at C.H.S. will be as wonderful as ours were, and you will be just as sorry to leave as we are.

Item LIX: We, the Seniors leave ..... .

Signed, sealed, published, and declared by the above named testator, the class of 1951, as and for its last will and testament, in the presence of us, who, at the request of the testator, and in the presence of the testator, and in the presence of each other have subscribed our names here to as witnesses this 20th day of June, 1951.

SENIOR PROPHECY

An aged prophet, work now done,
Recalls the Class of '51.

Midst swirling smoke and colored dye
It was my job to prophesy.
Then, with strength came my convictions,
Now, test the truth of my predictions.

Our scene a famous gallery
With portraits hung for all to see.
We call this place the Hall of Fame
So follow me and view the names.

On our left, Paul Groffsky's first
And then comes Joseph Burke.
Their playing days are long since gone,
But coaching is their work.

Next we see two lovely girls,
To give a concert soon.
The alto's name is Gretchen,
The soprano is called June.

From his training as the Cougar
Ed went into circus life.
It's Champenois the Great now,
And Nancy is his wife.

Pat Connors is a tennis champ
Pat Palmer runs a children's camp
Walter Beck's a swimming great,
And Auby Ball has found her mate.

Down the Hall we're bound to see,
A great man in society.
When Brief makes eyes, the women groan
He's got a penthouse all his own.

Here's a portrait sure to please
He answers when called Danny Drees.
And never can a coach refuse,
This crew cut guy to run with "Coos."

Barbara Beers is modeling
And Norma Barnes still likes to sing.
Peter Dinkel merely smiles
As howling people fill the aisles.

Last year Ann Besser found a guy
She did it in a fine way.
She's mixed her music and her love
And married Mr. Steinway.

Stage manager par excellence
He always gave his all.
Broadway's famous theatre man
The tireless Dicky Paul.

The country's leading trumpeter
A guy named Russell Shaw.
And steady George Bahamonde
Is practicing his law.

Now teaching twirling way out west
The cougar's Kathy Hughes.
And Melvin Woody is the best
On the New York Sunday News.

Facing us from the head of the Hall
Is David Sterling, known to all.
President then and President still,
He now resides on Capitol Hill.

Though Dixieland is long since gone,
And jazz has seen its day,
Alan Lauber goes right on
And listens anyway.

Here's a little alcove
With a picture you must see.
The fame contains a portrait
Of the New York Symphony.
Stapleton's on violin
Dick Calkins plays the bass,
And Peter Wildes' solo voice
Is sure to fill the place.

Do you recall the Charleston,
The dance that comes and goes?
Well, Barbara Matteson teaches it
For all the Broadway shows.

Olympic champion Ackerman
Has won again this year.
And Johnny Dorer's piano
Is the best that one can hear.

Now a main attraction
On your television screen,
Are Wood and Williams, dancers,
And best we've ever seen.

Around the turns and down the street
This driver is no fake.
They call him "second gear" and why?
'Cause Hallock knows no brake.

"Reorganize the world, I say,
I'll do it, yes I will."
And so she's tried for many years
Hardworking Janey Hill.

To sports we turn to the rest
Inside the record books.
And there with Roller Derby's best
Is smiling Shirley Brooks.

In among the horsey set
Possessing world acclaim,
Joan Janssen rides in all the shows
Her aim, to win again.

Alas, my eyes are growing old,
I'm tired, woe is me.
My hand can hardly hold the pen,
I'll close the Prophecy.

If in this work you did not see
Your name with all the rest;
Feel not left out, or e'en cast down
For faithfully t'was all in jest.

19 SWIMMING TEAM 51

Led by Captain MacKinnon the 1951 swimming team won nine of their thirteen meets. Seven victories of the campaign were over Fair Lawn, Irvington, Morristown, and Snyder. Nyack looked tough on paper, but strength in the relays proved to be the deciding factor as the mermen defeated the New York aggregation twice. In meets with Westfield and Plainfield the team suffered its only losses of the season.

Mal MacKinnon's two record breaking performances highlighted the successful season. In the last meet of the season with Irvington, Mal's 25.4 in the fifty yard freestyle was a new Columbia pool record. In the state meet MacKinnon lowered his record to 25.0, thus to be the fastest fifty man in school history. Aside from Captain MacKinnon, Walt Beck, Len Cole, Dick Foster, Pete Wilde, and Fred Brooks will be sorely missed next year as Co-Captains Pete Bernard and Bob Tupper take over.

Again congratulations are in order for Mr. Hack as he continues to put good teams in the pool.

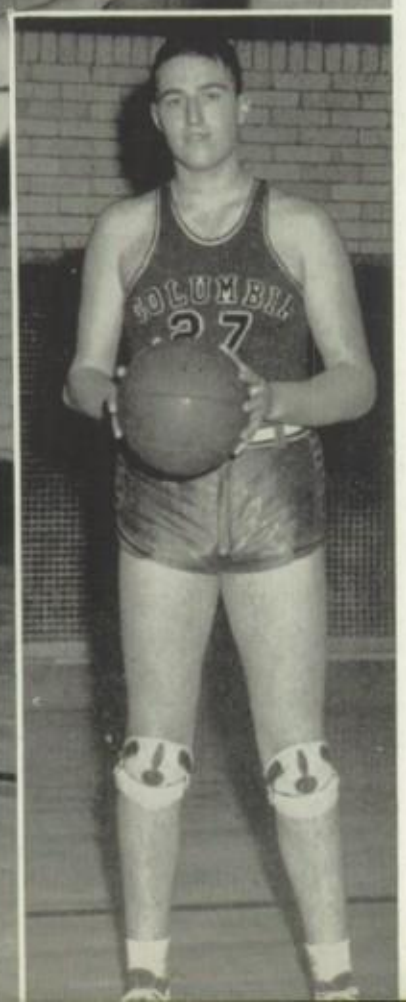
BASKETBALL 1950-1951



Columbias 38-36 win over New Brunswick gave the Cougars a season record of eight wins and ten losses. Scoring honors went to co-captains Joe Burke and Paul Groffsky. Pete Campisi and Sandy Dunn followed the big men in the scoring department. A great deal was contributed by Ed Zipfs playmaking, and the fine defensive work by Doc Nardone. Nort Jacobi and Bob Cross bolstered the team many times when the regulars failed.

After losing to Hillside and Orange, the Gems beat Westfield, Bloomfield, and Nutley to begin Christmas vacation on the winning side of the slate.

After the Christmas recess, the cougars were defeated by strong Central and West Orange but came back the following week to play sensational ball against Orange and Montclair who were both heavy favorites. Without a doubt the team was at its best as Pete Campisi began to score in double figures.

A return match with West Orange saw the Columbia basketeers come out on the short end of a 24-23 overtime game. Sandy Dunn's last second one-hander put the game into overtime, but the extra period saw the Cowboys win.

Following the second win over Nutley, the red and black lost five games. In the game with undefeated Belleville hopes for a win were shattered early as the Bellboys made their first eight shots. Wins over East Orange and New Brunswick finished the season. Joe Burke and Paul Groffsky were elected to the first team all-Oranges and Pete Campisi received honorable mention.

TRACK 1950

Moving into high gear after a successful indoor season, the Columbia track team went on to finish second in the state meet. Led by Co-Captains Pat Collins and John Zinckgraff, the Cougars won the Newark Board of Education Meet for the first time in twelve years. Dave Sterling led the Gems to first place in the Essex County Championships. The state relays saw Columbia win two, take one second, and gain a third. Roy Dietrich, Bill Lyons, and Dick Haug were the distance men who always piled up points when most needed. Coach Seitzer's well- balanced crew had one of the most successful seasons in Columbia track history.

In Memoriam

When as sophomores we made our first visit to the guidance department, we felt the atmosphere of kindliness and understanding that radiated not only from Miss Caswell herself but also from her office. Through her efforts we received our first true introduction to Columbia. Miss Caswell's interest in all pupils, past and present, was evident in the many pictures and newspaper clippings posted on her office walls. She followed as well as guided us in her sympathetic way, and was always willing to help us with problems of all kinds. Whenever one of us found it difficult to understand the point of view of adults, whether our parents or our teachers, or to get along happily with our classmates or friends, she helped us solve the difficulty. As our Latin teacher, Miss Caswell encouraged the shy students to take a more active part in class work and to consult her about difficult work. Whenever one of her pupils was ill, she was the first to call his home to inquire about him. Miss Caswell's whole life was centered about the school and her work. She desired to remain as our guide as long as it was possible. We are able to pay our most fitting tribute to Miss Caswell by following the paths of knowledge she paved for us and by being the successful citizens she thought and hoped we would be.
